An Evening with Gladstone.

Next Sunday evening at the Congregational church the character and life work of William E. Gladstone will be the topic of two addresses. Dr. C. McCormick will speak of "Gladstone, the Statesman." Rev. J. C. Cromer of "Gladstone, the Christian." All are welcome.

Point Well Taken.

To the Editor:—An offense against good order and an aggression on the city rights seems to me to be the using of our sidewalks for advertising purposes. A certain brand of cigars has been posted about our city on public property. There is no knowing where such imposition may end unless stopped. Why should women and children as well as men have to walk on tobacco ads., and have them thrust in their faces when they use our sidewalks? Respectfully yours,

Free Text Books.

City Attorney Hadsall has received from Attorney General Maynard his opinion on certain questions asked him by Superintendent of Public Instruction Hammond relative to the free text book law. According to the opinion the question of the adoption of the system for this school district was carried at the spring election. Part of the questions and opinion are given:

1st. "In voting at a district meeting on the question of free text books, is a majority of all the votes of the qualified voters of the district required, or is a majority of all those present and voting sufficient?"

2d. "In case a majority of all the district is required, will you please instruct the school officers how to proceed to determine the number residing in the district who are qualified to vote?"

The Attorney General says: "The first two questions presented may be considered together, and my reply is that notwithstanding the fact that the portion of the acts bearing upon the questions are not as scientifically framed as could be desired, it seems to me that in voting at a school district meeting on the question of free text books, a majority of the qualified voters of the district present and voting on the subject is sufficient. By the words 'qualified voters' is meant those who are qualified to vote on the question of raising money in the district."

Another question is: "As referred to in these acts, is there any difference in the expressions 'district meetings' and 'district elections'?" If so please explain." Mr. Maynard replies:

"In answer to your fifth question would say that the words 'meeting' or 'election' as used in the two acts under consideration, should be considered and treated as one and the same thing."

The Army Work of the Y. M. C. A.

The Young Men's Christian Associations of Michigan never did a better work than in providing tents at Camp Eaton where the boys could gather to read the papers, magazines and good books provided, to write letters, and to hold religious service. The work was at once practical and proved immensely popular. The influence of the meetings spread throughout the camp. The work done convinced those in charge that it should be maintained at all points where the boys may go. The experience was similar in other states. The result has been that the several state organizations have decided to carry on the work if the necessary funds can be secured—a question about which there should be no uncertainty. It is the positive duty of the citizens of the country to provide for the pushing forward and expansion of the work. The boys who have gone forth from all parts of the country are entitled to and have a right to expect that such a work for their convenience and uplifting shall be provided.

On Sunday meetings were held throughout the state to interest the people in the work and to secure funds, the State Committee having asked for $5,000. While the attendance was not large at the meeting held in the M. E. church, still the interest was good and the results very satisfactory. Dr. B. S. Knapp, president of the association, presided. After prayer by Rev. L. W. Spayd, Dr. Knapp explained the object of the meeting. He was followed by Lieut. Z. H. Ross, who had a splendid opportunity to observe the good work done at Camp Eaton, and by Secretary VanNess who spent several days at the camp in charge of the tents. As a result of the meeting a collection of $25 was taken, which was increased to $53 at the union evening service in the Baptist church. Dr. B. S. Knapp, G. T. Campbell and Dr. B. S. Sutherland will endeavor to increase the amount to $100, a task which should not be at all difficult.

Burton B. Johnson, of this city, who has had several years practical experience in the associations of Owosso and Ann Arbor, and who is known to be amply qualified for the work, is to be at once sent to Chickamauga Park.

Company G to be Kept Up.

At a meeting of Co. G held in the armory Friday night L. G. Heyer was elected captain; Z. H. Ross, first lieutenant; and Fred Edwards, second Lieut. It was thought necessary that some representatives of the company should go at once to Island Lake and see Adj. Gen. Irish and get his opinion about the organizing of a new company before proceeding to fill up the ranks with new men. Accordingly, by a unanimous vote of the company, the three newly elected officers, Capt. Heyer and Lieuts. Ross and Edwards were instructed to proceed at once to Island Lake, and Saturday morning they left, taking with them the resignation of Capt. Van Epps, as captain of Co. G, M. N. G., which Lieut. Edwards had in his possession. The committee had an interview with Gen. Irish, who authorized them to go ahead with the organization and stated that the company would be admitted to the state troops as soon as matters could be arranged. Before adjourning the following non-commissioned officers were appointed: First sergeant, H. Bartrem; 2d Sergt., F. Getchell; 3d Sergt., E. Case; 4th Sergt., F. Angvine; 5th Sergt., F. Hawley; post quartermaster sergeant, Will Eggleston; 1st Corp., A. Murner; 2d Corp., W. Robertson; 3d Corp., F. Van Dyne; 4th Corp., E. Rigley; 5th Corp., W. A. Sparling; 6th Corp., Chas. Lukerman. A short drill was held in the armory Sunday to acquaint the new members with the commands so that they might take part in the Memorial Day parade. At the regular drill Tuesday night several new members were taken into the company, the roster now containing 43 names. Other applications have been received and several will be admitted at the next meeting. There will probably be but five new companies organized in the State, and if Owosso secures admittance it will be due to the fact that Co. G was one of the best if not the best company that enlisted as volunteers for the present war.

McCormick Day, Saturday, June 11, 1898.

The past week we have taken more orders for McCormick machines than were ever taken in the same time during the history of McCormick business in Shiawassee Co. Evidently farmers have become satisfied that they are not safe in taking chances with light, cheap, experimental machines, this year. So great is the outlook for an immense growth of grain and grass, that none but the substantial built machines will handle it. While others dread the approaching harvest we are impatient for it to arrive. Then we can more clearly demonstrate the superiority of McCormick machines in the field. This week, three more car loads of McCormick machines will arrive, altogether making the largest invoice of binders and mowers ever received by any firm in Shiawassee Co. Remember that Saturday, June 11, is the day we deliver these machines to the farmers. Free dinner, free music, free speeches, a general all-round good time.

Memorial Address.

DELIVERED SUNDAY, MAY 29TH, BY REV. J. C. CROMER AT THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH TO QUACKENBUSH POST G. A. R. AND THE WOMEN'S RELIEF CORPS.

I must die in this land. I must not go over Jordan, but ye shall go over and possess that good land. Take heed unto yourselves, lest ye forget the covenant of the Lord your God Deut. 4:2-3.

Memorial day in this year 1898 comes to us in a time of war. We are sending our brave sons once more to the experiences of camp life, and to possible death on fields of battle. It is at once both easy and difficult to observe the day. It is easy to get the attention of people fixed upon the nation and its well being. But out of the conditions and the high enthusiasm of the present it may be difficult to recall the brave boys both living and dead who marched to martial music to the country's defense in the days from '61 to '65. We are so much taken up with the present that we may fail to give fitting recognition to these heroes of the past. And then I sometimes wonder just what are the thoughts and feelings which fill the breast of the old soldier of the war of the rebellion. In fact during this past week while away from home I have tried to get at the feelings of the old soldier. Wherever I have met him I have put to him many questions. There is a chance for him to become jealous hearted if he is inclined to be. Hitherto he has stood somewhat alone in the admiration and affections of a great people. But it now seems that he is to be called to divide honors with younger men who are going to a new war and with a foreign foe. The old soldier must stand aside. He is too old for one thing. And besides he has stood some what alone in the admiration and affections of a great people. But it now seems that he is to be called to divide honors with younger men who are going to a new war and with a foreign foe. The old soldier must stand aside. He is too old for one thing. And besides he has stood some what alone in the admiration and affections of a great people. But it now seems that he is to be called to divide honors with younger men who are going to a new war and with a foreign foe. The old soldier must stand aside. He is too old for one thing.
